

Discount Coupons

To attract the maximum number of customers, the best possible way is to offer discount coupons. Unlimited coupons can be created by your merchant account for your store. Also, you can complete the promotions for your store too. You can set several details for the discount coupons like the period for its availability, the total quantity of it, how many times each buyer can avail the benefits, and many more. The value of the coupon can be fixed or be depended on the percentage of the total order value.
